

BIOGRAPHY

UNITED STATES AIR FORCE

CHIEF MASTER SERGEANT RONNIE J. WOODS

Chief Master Sergeant Ronnie J. Woods is the Command Chief Master Sergeant for the 18th Wing, Kadena Air Base, Okinawa, Japan. The 18th Wing, the largest combat wing in the U.S. Air Force, provides the Commander, U.S. Pacific Command, trained and equipped tactical air superiority forces; combat search and rescue forces; command and control platforms; aeromedical evacuation capability; and global mobility resources for contingency operations. Chief Woods serves as the installation's senior enlisted liaison between the 18th Wing and enlisted personnel from five other Air Force major commands and joint partner units. The wing flies the F-15C, KC-135, HH-60 and E-3 aircraft. Additionally, the wing provides the 5th Air Force Commander a responsive, staging and operational air base with integrated, deployable, forward-based air power. Chief Woods is the principal advisor to the commander and senior staff on operational matters and issues affecting the morale, welfare, safety compliance, readiness and effective utilization of more than 6,000 total force personnel.

Chief Woods entered the Air Force from Chicago, Illinois in 1997. He graduated from the Security Forces Apprentice course at Lackland Air Force Base in February 1998. In 2010, Chief Woods retrained into the Command and Control Battle Management Operations career field. His experience includes various duties at the unit, wing and Component Numbered Air Force levels encompassing numerous tactical and operational leadership roles. He has led teams in daily operational campaign Air Tasking Order execution, strategic bomber planning and execution, and tactical command and control battle management in support of the Korea Theatre of Operations. His assignments includes bases in Montana, Illinois, South Carolina, Qatar, Louisiana, South Korea, and Arizona. Additionally, Chief Woods has deployed in support of Operations ENDURING FREEDOM, IRAQI FREEDOM, NEW DAWN, and INHERENT RESOLVE.

Prior to assuming his current position, he served as the Command Chief of the 8th Fighter Wing, Kunsan Air Base, Republic of Korea.
